

Quantum Dot Nanosensors

The sensor consists of CdSe/ZnS core/shell quantum dots (shown as large, dimpled green crystals) covered in maltose binding protein (clusters of small green spherical elements). Added analyte displaces a dye-labeled analog in the protein-binding pocket, changing the yellow fluorescence of the nanosensor.